Notice regarding Increase in Contract Amount for Mission 3

ispace inc. (“ispace”) hereby announces that The Charles Stark Draper Laboratory (“Draper”) has increased the value of its CP-12 subcontract with ispace technologies U.S. This additional funding will enable ispace technologies U.S. to meet critical program requirements.

1. Overview of the Change in Contract Amount

Draper is NASA’s prime contractor for the Commercial Lunar Payload Services (CLPS) CP-12 Task Order, with ispace technologies U.S., a consolidated subsidiary of ispace, as its primary subcontractor. This contract modification will further help solidify efforts to achieve CP-12 (ispace Mission 3 scheduled to be launched in 2026) objectives.

2. Change in Contract Amount

	Before the Change	After the Change
Contract Amount	$54MM USD	$62MM USD

3. Impact on financial results

Though this change was not included into the consolidated earnings forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2025, its impact on the forecast is expected to be immaterial. ispace will promptly announce if it is determined that there are any matters that require disclosure.
